DESCRIPTION

Historic villa from the 1400s that belonged to papal families: a piece of history in the Tortona countryside

Prestigious historic villa of 1400 belonged until today to only two families , including Pope Pius V , the property is composed of the main villa of 1,500 square meters covered in which we find large frescoed halls with fireplaces and porches on the ground floor, a central staircase leads to the second floor where we find the master suites with private bath, on the second floor we find the other large rooms with their bathrooms, inside the land of 10,000 square meters completely fenced in masonry we also find a small aristocratic church, an old mill and large porches. In total today there are 24 rooms, 16 bathrooms, plus porches for 290 sq. m. and accessory buildings. The property is immersed in absolute peace of the countryside and vis i is accessed via a beautiful tree-lined driveway . Ideal for a SPA, beauty farm or a retirement home or for organizing events , especially weddings , given the presence of a small church still consecrated . The structure of the villa is sound but needs significant renovation.
